“ Hey Uncle Donald, I’ve been trying to write this for a while now. But the sentences are coming in patches. My thoughts aren’t making much sense. I’ve been working to create your last days of memory on Earth memorable. Creating slideshows and programs to honor you. Do you know what it feels like to put your life in a paragraph? It’s bullshit. You are so much more than slideshows, programs, and mini paragraphs. I’ve been trying Uncle Donald. Laughing to remember yours. Talking to ALL the cousins. Trying to connect. Trying to remember. Talking about you out loud to anyone who will hear me grieve. I captured your voice in my podcast intro and outro with Mom so you will ALWAYS be around. When you and Mom laughed together it was one of my favorite sounds. Remembering the last time we were together. We were laughing, gambling, and arguing. You told me you were proud of me. That you’ve always been proud of me. That I have so much more life to live. You told me to loosen up more. You told me to laugh more. I’m trying. You were supposed to be here to see me try. Uncle Donald, reminded me to be present, to try. I will miss hearing your laugh when you walk through the door, when you called me baby didn’t matter how old I got, and when we shared a drink together. I love you & ĩ, so very much. I will miss you so very much. Your niece, Dreme

“ Donald Edward Bryant Senior, a man with many gifts. The one I love the most was his positive spirit! Many times we talked and no matter what the situation he could always see the brighter side. He truly seen the good in everyone and everything. He believed in time all things will work out for the best and they usually do. We just have to practice patience not all things happen on our time. Two life lessons I cherish are it's never too late for anything as long as your heart is in the right place no distance is too far and no time is too long. Second life lesson was if you know my pops he would always tell you straight to your face & I up that taught me to always remember nobody is God so nobody is perfect so if you F up just say you F up! We all make mistakes if we truly care about each other we will work together on a solution. Love has no bounds! There once was three Donald Edward Bryant's now there is 2. Love you pops your legacy is stronger than ever! To my family, Family meaning anyone who truly cared about Donald Bryant Sr, Grieve him however you want but let this moment bring us closer together and not farther apart if anyone wants to contact me my number is 617-504-0244 -Donald Bryant JR aka DJ

“ My cousin Donald, words can say, how much I love and miss you. I miss our talks and laughs about just about everything. We always shared good advice and life lessons. We made plans to gather, together all of our children together so they knew one another. All out of love and family. Hug all our family up there in Heaven for me especially my Mom. Sending love and Condolences to my family in Florida, Boston, Virginia, Jersey and all over the world. Sincerely Cousin Dee reach out family. Dee Dee Boston Smith, on Facebook and Instagram. I give my details when reach out. Much Love

“ Donald, my loving & caring best friend. Knowing you since I was in the 7th grade has been quite a ride!! I am grateful that we always made a way to connect whenever I was in Florida and whenever you traveled. Our last time in Boston recently and speaking to you the day you passed was nothing but God allowing us to have lots of laughs, great conversation & confirmation that our friendship is true. You are truly loved and sorely missedâ €¸, May God have eternal mercy on your soul. Rest my love, rest. To the family, we are just thatâ€¦ FAMILYâ €¸, Peace, Love & Blessings

“ Hey Unc, Never ever would have thought you would die. Still canâ€™t really process it. Growing up you were an amazing male figure in my life the one I felt had my back went against ya sister for me ! No one else did that and that was the best thing you ever gave me was someone on my side. I will always love you for that and so much more. You always called on my birthday, you always made me feel loved. Imma miss your very loud snore and you calling me baby. Iâ€™m sad magik doesnâ€™t get to grow up with someone like you in his life bc it was awesome to have you. I love you. Your niece, Iraya

“ Pop, I can't seem to find the right way to say anything right now... we just spoke... we just laughed... we just joked... you were just here... our last conversation playing over and over again.. and all i can think is I'm so your son... so hard headed... hahaha. I'll heed the words pop, appreciate and express my joy in our last moments at Grace By Nia in Boston... and find comfort in our last words... I love you Pop. Rest in Paradise Pop
