Kay Clark Mullen

April 5, 1942 – February 7, 2026

With heartfelt love and deep gratitude for a life well lived, we announce the passing of Kay Clark Mullen, who entered eternal rest on February 7, 2026, at the age of 83.

Born on April 5, 1942, in Blakely, Georgia, Kay was raised with strong values of faith, education, and service that shaped the course of her remarkable life. She later made her home in St. Petersburg, Florida, where she became a respected and beloved educator.

Kay dedicated her life to the noble calling of teaching. For decades, she poured knowledge, patience, and encouragement into the lives of countless students. She believed education was not just about books, but about building confidence, character, and opportunity. Her classroom was a place of structure, warmth, and inspiration. Many who crossed her path would say she didn't just teach lessons — she changed lives.

Beyond her professional achievements, Kay was known for her grace, wisdom, and unwavering commitment to her family and community. She carried herself with quiet strength and a generous spirit, always ready to offer guidance, a listening ear, or a word of encouragement.

She leaves behind a legacy of learning, love, and leadership that will continue to echo through generations of students, colleagues, friends, and family members whose lives she touched.

Though she will be deeply missed, her impact remains everlasting — in every life she uplifted, every mind she shaped, and every heart she encouraged.

We invite you to share a message of condolence and light a candle in her memory as we celebrate a life devoted to education, faith, and service.

“Her children rise up and call her blessed.” — Proverbs 31:28

May her memory be a blessing and her legacy continue to inspire all who knew her.
