“ Pops and have been neighbors for the last 24 yrs. He was a second father to me. Whenever I did for my home I did for his. I never had to knock on his door to enter I'd just walk in and he'd always welcome me as if I was supposed to be there. When my kids were younger he would pick them up from school until I made it home from work treating them as if they were his grandkids. Soon as I got home we would sit in his porch and we would talk until I would fall asleep. He just sit there until I wake up. Holidays he would fix a sweet potato pie just for my house and sometimes we would hang out in the backyards and put meat on the grill while sharing life stories. Anything he had, I was welcomed to without hesitation. I had a chance to grow close to pops and learn life lessons that will always be remembered. There was nothing I wouldn't do for pops and there was nothing he didn't do for me. I love and truly will miss my guy! Pops was truly a beautiful spirit that I will never forget in my life travels....mike Kirkland
