“ I have missed seeing Butler every week, as I used to as a child. He was always so dignified and caring. I learned a lot of life lessons from him--the importance of a job done with care and attention, the dignity of all work, the humor that can be found when you need it the most. I think it is his laugh that stays with me the most. That wonderful, chuckle and the twinkling eye that went with it. His heart was full of caring and love. When my 15 month old son died, Butler came up with my Aunt Peggy to provide comfort and support. Butler was one of the first people to meet my Benj when I brought him back from Peru, where I had adopted him. I loved seeing my son's tiny hand clutching Butler's gentle, callused finger. Butler was a role model for us all. I will miss him.

“ Butler was a wise, protective, always tolerant presence in my childhood. I always regarded him as the right kind of grownup to be. I'm lucky to have known him a little and grateful that he had such loving family watching over him. Rest in peace!

“ Dear Janice and nieces and family and friends of Butler, How thankful I am that Butler had these last many, many years with you in Florida. He was proud of his family and thankful for your love. He was a precious soul, a man who inspired me to walk tall, to do my best whatever the job, and to not grumble! His patience and kindness to children and young people never seemed to fail. As a small child I followed him around from project to project (he was a busy fellow!), watching and learning from him. He helped me see the value of honesty, duty, kindness, and dignity. May his God and yours bring you comfort and peace and gladness in your memories of him. And may we all continue to learn from Butler as we think of the ways he touched our lives for good.

“ Oh, I'm so sorry this lovely man has left us. He was a friend and role model my whole life. Every memory I have of my childhood on my aunt's farm has Butler in it. During one of our last visits, he introduced me as his niece. That made me so proud. He was right. We were family. Janice and family, I'm so sorry for your loss. Thank you for taking such good and loving care of him.
